

3520 Requirements for Tenure and Promotion

I. Requirements for Tenure Status

Eligibility for tenure status requires five years of probationary full-time teaching at the College. A faculty member shall stand for tenure in the fifth year of probationary status.

Tenure shall be granted to faculty who provide a documented and consistent record of excellence in meeting the criteria of policy 3300 "Faculty Responsibilities" regarding teaching, service, and professional development.

Faculty who move from fixed-term contract status to probationary contract status may request that up to three years of their service at the College be counted toward tenure eligibility. Both the individual faculty member and the College administration assume responsibility to assure that tenure consideration occurs during the fifth year of probationary status.

Prior to October 1, the Vice President for Academic Affairs shall notify faculty members in their fifth year of probationary status of the requirement that they stand for tenure. Faculty who are not so notified, but believe themselves to be eligible for tenure, should contact the Vice President for Academic Affairs or their Division Chair.

The College shall issue a one-year terminal contract to a faculty member who is denied tenure.
